MORE THAN WORDS ON A PAGE

Last Thursday we warmly welcomed author and genealogist M.K. Jacobs to Hester Canterbury to enlighten us on the lengthy process undertaken to research the back story to giving rise to a historical fiction novel. M.K. Jacobs has penned fourteen books to date with two currently being written, with her latest novel, 'In The Shade Of The Mountain' available for all residents to read in the Hester Canterbury Library. Once you have read the book, please place it back in the library. Thanks.

HOME IS NOT A PLACE. IT'S A FEELING

A place to call home is so much more than the aesthetics and the material things that accompany you, it's a place that is warm and inviting and you are proud to showcase and share with family and friends. It is a place surrounded by a landscape of streets that draw you out with intrigue and a sense of security, where irreplaceable memories are formed and stories are shared.

It's a place of comfort knowing that within arms reach is a community that will look out for you, and support you if required. It's a place you leave without much thought, but are excited to return to, where you take things for granted but forever thankful for its presence. It is where you freely shed emotions, an uncontrollable laugh, a vulnerable tear.

It's a place you spend the majority of your time but don't feel cheated. It's a place you chose to call home, it didn't choose you, while all along it was to serve one real purpose. A better life.

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND

Based upon the very positive feedback from the last 'Friday Happy Hour Fish N Chips' night, I will be in talks with the Hospitality Manager at Faversham House about scheduling a repeat performance in July. Once finalized, a Sign-Up form will be available at Reception. Don't forget, Friday Happy Hour takes place every Friday from 5pm in the Dining Room. BYO drinks, nibbles and a good sense of humour. We will also look at the prospect of hosting a Mid Winter Residents Lunch to warm those eager wintery appetites, also in July if possible.

Have a tremendous week and take care.

Week Three of the Winter Menu starts on Monday 03 July.
Please place any orders by 1pm the Thursday before.
Bon Appetit!
